

Use of the Certificate and Certification Marks

Your ISO management system has been issued a Certificate of Registration corresponding to the standard against which you were audited. The certificate and certification logos (referred to together as Certification Marks) can be used in the ways in accordance with the instructions below. (Please note, any misuse of the Certification Marks may result in the withdrawal of certificates.)

The ISO logos (letters within a globe) can only be used by ISO itself, ISO members and ISO technical committees. You are not permitted to use these to imply that you are endorsed by the ISO or for any other purpose. Further information can be found here: <https://www.iso.org/iso-name-and-logo.html>

The Certification Marks CAN be used in the following ways:

- In e-mails, on websites and social media sites and associated electronic media
- They may be reproduced as water marks and embossed, relief, or die-stamped versions may be used
- In brochures and advertisements
- Presentations and case studies
- Stationery including invoices and quotations

The Certification Marks CANNOT be used in the following ways:

- Calibration or test certificates
- Training Certificates
- Any goods or products
- On labels or outer or inner packaging
- On flags, buildings, vehicles etc or promotional products such as calendars or diaries

General Instructions for Use

1. It is your responsibility not to make any statements regarding your certification that are misleading.
2. And for the avoidance of doubt, you must not make any statement which misrepresents the scope or scale of your certification or that brings the system or the credibility of the certification body or ISOOnline into doubt.
3. The marks must not be used in such a way as to suggest that the certification body or ISOOnline accepts responsibility for activities carried out under the scope of accreditation.
4. Where the Certification Mark is used in any quotation or offer for work, it must only be in connection with the scope of the certification.
5. The Certification Marks must not be used on a product or product packaging in any way which could be interpreted that the product has a process or service conformity.
6. The Certification Marks must not be applied to laboratory test, calibration or inspection reports.
7. The organisation must not imply that certification applies to any areas, sites or activities beyond those which the certification body has specifically agreed to be included.
8. Upon termination of the certification or if the certification is withdrawn, suspended or reduced, you must immediately discontinue all use of the Certification Marks
9. Should the scope of your original certification be reduced, any promotional or advertising material affected by this change should be amended accordingly.
10. You must ensure that your certification is not referred to in a way which implies that it incorporates activities outside the scope of your certification.
